Disobedient

1. Sourced research and proposed ICP

Verified brand and product

NYC apparel brand with independence and defiance positioning; streetwear interpretation supported by products and brand copy.

Proposed hero: Low Lives Hoodie. Official display: $150.00. Currency code was not separately verified.

Vendor describes: 14oz heavy fleece; 98% cotton, 2% polyester. Stock and per-variant availability remain untested.

Research performed

Four completed Exa searches: brand: 4, audience: 3, creators: 4, formats: 5. The full recorded query/result history is retained in the demo. Search candidates are not verified brand or creator facts.

Official site and product sources establish the findings above. No individual social post or Meta ad was verified. No creator views, conversion rates or current paid-media performance are claimed.

ICP: hypotheses to test

End user: Adult UK/London streetwear shoppers who enjoy graphic hoodies, music and game-inspired short-form culture. This is a proposed demo audience, not the NYC brand's measured audience.

Creative hypothesis: Minimal front, expressive music-lettering back: a reveal that rewards a second look. Need to test: whether the game-world presenter and real garment insert earn attention and product-page interest.

Buyer hypothesis: founder or creative/growth operator seeking fresh apparel concepts. Founder identity, buying intent, customer age mix, revenue, sales and ad budget remain unknown. No paid-client relationship is established.

2. Existing London character and 8-second creative plan

Reuse the historical adult PS2 penthouse presenter: blond braids, warm-brown skin, tan chair and London dusk skyline. Keep face, body, trousers, scene, camera and source performance consistent. The image below is an existing source frame, not a new branded output.

Historical character

Official front

Official back

Official on-body fit

Garment lock: Grey pullover with blank visible front and kangaroo pocket. Blue lettering and red musical staff belong on the back. Do not add a zipper or move the back print onto the chest.

8-second edit: proposed overlay script

0-2 sec / Keep original seated character and camera. Repair the visible top only.
Overlay: Quiet front. Loud back.

2-6 sec / Retain source performance. Use a genuine official rear-product still as a separately edited insert; do not invent a new body turn.
Overlay: Low Lives Hoodie

6-8 sec / Add a clean two-second website end card after the six-second repair. Remove any Mint Labs payment/checkout destination.
Overlay: Explore disobedientnyc.com

Generation boundary and review

Genjutsu Light processes the first 15 source seconds and preserves source audio. The available generic pilot is six seconds; the eight-second edit adds a two-second end card. Overlay copy above is not new speech. Brand-name dialogue needs separate approved voice/lip-sync work. No new apparel render has been submitted.

Check every frame for identity, hands, fabric, graphics and occlusion. A human must watch the full edit with sound and verify the exact website destination. Official product images are references, not proof of perfect AI garment reproduction.
